for White women and girls

Straight Black males are infected with HIV at a rate over 19 times the rate of straight White males. The media won't warn you, but the National Alliance will.

New Alliance Stickers

The media won't warn you, but the National Alliance will. That is the message on our updated health warning stickers. Our original stickers warned White women that straight Black males were 14 times more likely to carry the deadly HIV virus than Whites. That was then — 20 years ago — but more recent government figures put the risk at 19 times more likely. We know why the Jew-controlled media do not report these alarming stats. So we will sound the alarm to protect our precious gene pool! Go to nationalvanguard.org for instructions on how to print these 3x5-inch stickers. Search for the American Dissident Voices broadcast of 30 November, titled "Don't Get Sick." Get active with these stickers. Be creative and spread them far and wide. Have female associates place them in ladies' restrooms, for example, or wherever teen girls hang out. We had hoped to include one of these new stickers with this month's issue of the BULLETIN. Unfortunately, we just found out we won't receive our order until mid-December, so next month it will be. Meanwhile, it's easy to print them yourself after downloading the files.

To avoid contracting HIV: Don't have sex with homosexuals or bisexuals (97x the risk), intravenous drug users (15x the risk), or non-Whites (8x the risk, 19x for Black males). The media won't warn you, but the National Alliance will.

tions of certain very exceptional groups. The November-December 2019 issue of the UK's Heritage & Destiny magazine (H&D), a long-standing Alliance ally, featured a review of author Norman Lowell's new book, Imperium Europa: An Aristocratic Manifesto. Mr. Lowell, a resident of Malta, is a longtime pan-European racial-nationalist who advocates a Europe united under one flag. In contrast to the economics-focused EU, though, he sees this desired unity as "a Europic bond forged through Spirituality closely followed by Race, nurtured through High Culture, protected by High Politics, enforced by the Elite" — a combination, if you will, of Cosmotheism and the ideals expressed in Francis Parker Yockey's book Imperium. Reviewer Greg Cumming was struck by how Lowell's book read "like the Cosmotheist philosophy of the National Alliance in political, genetic, and religious spheres." He continued:

Chapter XXIX, "Our Destiny," sub-titled "Toward a New Consciousness — A New Order

— A New People," is dedicated to the memory of Dr. William Pierce, founder and chairman of the National Alliance, inspired by Dr. Pierce's memorable lecture Our Cause. This chapter is too long to quote here, but on Cosmotheism, Lowell writes:

"It is high time to adopt this new belief in the sacred gene pool.

"A belief that The Universe is evolving as a Conscious Whole.

"That the Universe has a consciousness, a will of its own — a Divine Consciousness.

"That we must become the conscious manifestation of the Universal Will!

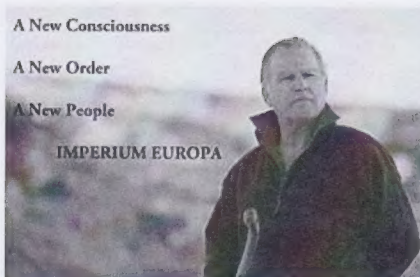

"That we must become Divine!

"We must become one with the Divine Essence!

"In short: a Cosmotheist belief!

"Only thus can we be assured of the continued survival and strengthening of the White Man — and the accomplishment of the Sacred Mission within the Cosmos."

"In short: a Cosmotheist belief." Indeed. Our friends at H&D have offered anyone who receives our BULLETIN a complimentary issue of their fine 26-page magazine, which always reports the best, latest updates on what is happening among European nationalists. Write

Cosmotheist Books: Special Offer

Imperium Europa is now being offered for $35 at cosmotheistchurch.org/shop. The book Cosmotheism, which includes Dr. Pierce's basic essays on the subject, is also listed at $35. As a special one-time offer, only for National Alliance members and supporters, and only through the month of December, each of these titles will be reduced to $30 each — or the extremely discounted price of $50 if you purchase both titles together. This is a opportunity for our most trusted supporters to become more familiar with the trailblazing world view which is the foundation for everything we do. Order by mail with check or money order to our postal address or pay with cryptocurrency and order online. We will order more copies of these fundamental titles as funds permit.

Additional new titles added to our online store include Europa: German Conservative Foreign Policy 1870-1940, translated by Alexander Jacob; Medieval Europe by Maurice Keen; Medieval Iceland: Society, Sagas, and Power by Jesse L. Byock; The Pivot of Civilization by Margaret Sanger; Nesta Webster's The French Revolution; Thug, or a Million Murders by Colonel James L. Sleeman; Brave New World by Aldous Huxley; A Race Against Time — Racial Heresies for the 21st Century, edited by George McDaniel, foreword by Jared Taylor; and America Balkanized by Dr. Brent Nelson (hardback).

Gun Show Activism

Hello Chairman Will: I received the banner you had made last Friday and the box of books the next day. I also got some "Send Them Back" stickers from Jim Mathias at our whitebiocentrism.com forum, so will have those on the table as well. The gun show is this coming weekend, so we're all set now. I'll send you a photo of the Alliance table when it's over. I've only read the first chapter of Nature's Eternal Religion, and thoroughly enjoyed that so far. I'll try to read it all now that I have finished Hunter... Followup: Here's a picture of the table. While the venue was larger, the number of customers may actually have been fewer. The show was a success though, as a good number of people picked up a free "Why They Want to Disarm You" tri-fold leaflet. One guy came back the next day and asked questions about the Alliance. I answered his questions and gave him a Building a New White World booklet. He seemed really interested so I hope that y'all hear from him. Regards, — A.R., Louisiana

Legal Update

A hearing has been scheduled for 13 December in Illinois for the National Alliance's motion for the judge to reconsider his decision time-barring our $850,000 claim there regarding the estate of John McLaughlin. One of the administrators, John's brother Michael, contradicted himself in a sworn discovery response compared to his sworn testimony at trial. He was deemed to have admitted having received mail from Virginia that informed him of the Alliance's claim, and thus the Alliance should have been entitled to actual notice of the probate case, but the judge chose to believe Michael's testimony that he didn't receive such mail. We purchased transcripts of the testimony, and our attorney will try to use those to show the judge the contradiction and prove that the objective evidence is stronger than Michael's unsupported, self-serving testimony. It's just too easy, our attorney will argue, for Michael to give such testimony since he is also a beneficiary of his deceased brother's estate and is therefore biased. Although judges tend to deny such motions, our attorney has had sufficient success with similar motions in the past to be optimistic. There are no guarantees, however, with the state of justice being what it is. We await the Illinois decision prior to our attorneys in the Commonwealth of Virginia moving forward to set a trial date with our counterclaim there. We will proceed with that Virginia case regardless of what the Illinois judge decides.

Our member A.R.'s ever-improving table at a recent gun show.

Chairman Williams has learned that it will be another six months to a year before the five justices of the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals (WVSCA) will officially respond to his appeal brief. This will be five years after he was fraudulently charged with misdemeanor battery by the coup-plotter, then was found guilty and sentenced to six months in jail by courts in the 11th West Virginia Judicial District. That's all right; Williams has already served his time, "paid his debt" for the wrongful conviction. Whether the WVSCA vacates the conviction or reverses the lower court ruling, or not, complaints are now being prepared by Mr. Williams against both the judge and special prosecutor in his case for judicial and prosecutorial misconduct, respectively, as well as one against his former defense attorney for working against the interests of her innocent client. These officers of the court will have difficulty defending their flagrant violations of the US Constitution, the West Virginia Criminal Code, and the West Virginia Code of Judicial Conduct. Even lawyers and judges have to answer to someone.

Glen Allen v. Heidi Beirich, Mark Potok and Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC), asking for $6.5 million in damages from the notorious Jewish hate group, was finally ruled upon in mid-November. You can view attorney Allen's masterful lawsuit by searching 'Glen Allen, SPLC' at nationalvanguard.org. Not unexpectedly, all nine claims by Mr. Allen were dismissed by ultra-liberal federal judge Catherine Blake, an appointee of lowlife reprobate Bill Clinton. Judge Blake wrote that the SPLC was only "exercising its freedom of speech" when its smears and defamation got Mr. Allen fired from his job with the city of Baltimore, Maryland. Interested readers may view Blake's decision here: leagle.com/decision/infdc020191114d52

The SPLC has publicly blustered about its intentions to "destroy" the National Alliance. In fact Mark Potok, speaking for the SPLC about the National Alliance and other patriotic organizations, publicly boasted, "[W]e're not trying to change anybody's mind. We're trying to wreck [pro-White] groups, and we are very clear in our head... we are trying to destroy them!" Heidi Beirich has repeated the same boast during her 20-year career with the SPLC, during which she has been in charge of the Jewish group's so-called "Intelligence Project" and absurd "Hate Map." Potok and Beirich have since "retired" from the troubled hate group, as have its 30-year president Richard Cohen and Legal Director Rhonda Brownstein. This after the disgraced pervert Morris Dees, who co-founded SPLC nearly 50 years ago, was fired earlier this year for sexual misconduct and racial discrimination toward his staffers. A cast of other SPLC rats have fled the rotting hate ship during the past scandalous year, and a Chinese woman who was formerly First Woman Michelle Obama's Chief of Staff was brought in to clean up the mess. A Negress is now president of the SPLC. The good news: Glen Allen will appeal Blake's bad ruling and is considering filing ethical complaints against the biggest SPLC rats.

Twenty years ago Dr. William Pierce had the following to say (enjoy listening to his original ADV broadcast on track 15 of our Power of Truth, Vol. 3 CD "Lawyers"):

In the Clinton era Morris Dees is a darling of the legal establishment. He is invited to speak to groups of lawyers. He is given awards by bar associations. Other lawyers admire him for his success at barratry. They envy him for the amount of money he has made at it. And Dees... doesn't even pretend to be anything but a barrator. He brags publicly about it. When he sued me, on a legal theory so far-fetched you wouldn't believe it, because I had purchased some real estate from a church that was one of his targets, he bragged to the newspapers and to his list of supporters: "I'm going to shut Pierce down."

Well, he didn't shut me down, but he got his lawsuit against me tried in a court where the judge was a Clinton appointee, and it ended up costing me nearly $150,000, while Dees raked in nearly $10 million in donations from his supporters... Morris Dees, more than any other lawyer, epitomizes what is wrong with our legal system in America today...

Correspondence

Hello Chairman Williams, Thank you for getting back to me. Jim Mathias and I keep in regular contact and every available minute I get is spent reading Cosmotheism or listening to American Dissident Voices. I recently purchased some stickers from Jim and will soon generate my first After Action Report. Happy Holidays to you and everyone at the NA. — B.M., California

Hi Will! Please find an enclosed check made out to the National Alliance. I'm aware of the need of funds to get going with the William Luther Pierce Memorial Library, a very worthy project. If operational needs dictate, of course use the funds for whatever is most pressing for the Alliance and National Vanguard. I wish it was ten times as much, but I've never been particularly good at doing evil things to amass huge sums of fiat money. Hopefully this will get some good projects into production.

Your organization delivers "Bang for the Buck." I'm very pleased with National Alliance and National Vanguard progress and will continue to support. Fighting JOG is never dull, is it? I know we're all Cosmotheists now, but Happy Thanksgiving and Merry Christmas anyway. Respectfully,
— B.H., Pennsylvania

Chairman Williams responds: Thank you, B.H. Your generous contribution comes at a most opportune time to make needed improvements to our Alliance property in preparation for constructing the library facility.

Dear Chairman Williams: I am upping my contribution to $25 a month. Check for next year's dues in advance ($300) enclosed. I thought you were considering retiring a couple of years back, but I'm guessing there isn't good replacement yet for Chairman... Have a nice Thanksgiving. —
C.M., South Carolina

Chairman Williams responds: Thanks, C.M. It will be a complicated transition for me to hand over Alliance reins to a new Chairman, but doable. For one thing my replacement must meet several significant criteria, plus relocate to our Tennessee National Office. I'm confident we will find the right person to carry on the Alliance's work soon enough.

Chairman Will: Got [my October BULLETIN] yesterday afternoon. [Donny and Barbara are] an inspirational-looking young couple. Their image on the cover tells me that there is a future out there worth staying alive for. Check went out by USPS a little over an hour ago. Should be up there by the middle of next week! — W.H., South Carolina (via whitebiocentrism.com)

Dear Chairman, regarding the October BULLETIN, it is great to learn that the young couple featured on the front page has moved to our West Virginia campus! As far as possible, if a like-minded buyer can be found to purchase the West Virginia property that will be great also. Dr. Pierce's vision of an all-White, racially conscious community can really happen and thrive, whether there or in Tennessee. About that auction in Laurelwood Estates, the more Whites around you the better. Even if they pretend to not be racially aware, they are — by virtue of buying property in an all-White community... I'll add that it is nice to see more books added to Cosmotheist Books online each month despite the enemy's efforts to undermine our ability to sell them. Keep up the great work! — S.R., Virginia

Chairman Williams responds: I can't say that everything we're doing is going so great, S.R., but we are making steady progress. It has taken several months, but Donny, being a skilled mechanic, has met long-delayed challenges: repairing the tractor and gas-engined tools; pulling the defective well pump that supplied water to two critical buildings, and he is now installing the new one, nearly 500 feet deep. The cost of replacing the submersible pump will be $2,500, but we've set aside funds to pay for this and other critical repairs thanks to the recent generosity of a couple of our supporters. I attended that auction on 16 November, and, as you surmised, everyone there — I counted 40 people — were White. A third of the lots were sold.

To NA: South Carolina here! I would say country — country compared to some places, but definitely not the same rural South that I grew up in. It's an honor and a privilege to be able to interact/learn from others who are galvanizing White people worldwide into struggle. Great to see the work of the late great WLP being continued by the National Alliance. Cheers! — New signup at our White Biocentrism forum and prospective National Alliance member

Distraction and Hobbyism

For those who followed mainstream media news this month, there was little to follow besides the so-called “impeachment inquiry” put on by the Democrats who control the US House of Representatives. The only comment I have about this distraction is just how Jewish the entire production has been, and from both sides, Democrats and Republicans. An article at nationalvanguard.org, “A Very Jewey Affair the Jews of the Impeachment Proceedings,” gives details, and in a comment below that article is the link to another article, “The Impeachment Parade of Jews,” by Thomas Dalton. In these two articles is all the information Alliance members need to take away from the “impeachment inquiry.” When folks want to discuss the inquiry with you, trot out the names of all these Jews from memory. Don’t allow them to change the subject and certainly do not allow them to change your mind about just how Jewey the congressional dog and pony show has been and will continue to be.

Hobbyism

Not to pick on any one individual (since others do similar things), but to use him as an example, a person joined our White Biocentrism forum this month and chose as his username “Lieutenant Kelowitz.” That turns out to be the name of an officer who served aboard the USS Enterprise on the fantasy TV show Star Trek in the 1960s. The hobbyist “trekkie” sub-culture aside, Lieutenant Kelowitz’s first post to our forum set off the hobbyist alarm with me when he wrote: “I’m a member of four White nationalist/alt-right forums now, counting this one... I’m here because of my White nationalist views and glad to recognize several others from other forums posting here as well...” We welcome those who have discovered us from other Internet forums and such — we all usually start somewhere else before we find our way to the teachings of William Pierce and the National Alliance — but when recruiting new members we are always on the lookout for the “hobbyist” personality that Dr. Pierce warned us about in our National Alliance Membership Handbook. Using the name and rank of a fictional character (and names ending in “owitz” are, in the West, generally borne by eastern European Jews, no less) on the very “Jewey” program Star Trek is not impressive to those of us who are serious, Jew-wise Alliance activists. But through education and our mentoring we allow that even a Lieutenant Kelowitz can change his user name, become more educated, more wise, and more exclusively invested in the National Alliance mission. He is, at least for starters, an avowed White nationalist.

Though Dr. Pierce wrote the following passage 26 years ago, before the Internet became available to us, his advice from pages 68-71 in our Handbook’s section on traits that the Alliance does not want in recruits still rings true and should be noted by all Alliance members.

The hobbyist: The inexperienced recruiter may assume that a person who reads many racially oriented periodicals, belongs to two or three other organizations [or forums], and likes to talk about personalities and activities in these organizations is a good prospect. Usually that isn't true. The person who has made a hobby of the White resistance "movement" may be persuaded to expand the scope of his hobby by joining the National Alliance, but in most cases he isn't the sort of member we want.

The hobbyist is a person who joins an organization primarily for recreational purposes and has little or no understanding of service, commitment, or loyalty: He is a creature of the "Me Generation." He may pay his dues every month [or perhaps never, if he is only a forum member or NY commentator], but he can never be entrusted with organizational responsibility, and we usually won't want him to come in contact with other members.

Like the talker, he has difficulty with the idea of responsibility. Whether he understands it or not, his most basic motive is to entertain himself, and his decisions often can be traced to this motive. He will choose to do what is exciting or interesting or titillating rather than what is prudent or useful.

The hobbyist usually lacks a sense of discrimination. To him any organization which asserts its commitment to the cause of White survival and progress is part of the "movement" and is worthy of respect, regardless of how infantile its actions or ill-planned its program; and any person who mouths the right slogans is regarded as a "comrade," regardless of character or other personal qualities.

There are several telltale signs that often permit a hobbyist to be spotted immediately, or that should at least lead the recruiter to be wary:

- Wearing of exotic uniform pieces or insignia is a dead giveaway. Hobbyists are at heart game-players, dabblers in make-believe. Wearing an old *Afrika Korp*s cap or a swastika lapel pin helps a hobbyist to feel he is playing the game. Non-exotic uniform pieces — camouflage fatigues or combat boots in inappropriate situations — also may indicate hobbyism.

- Coming to a meeting with a non-relevant "movement" publications in hand is a standard hobbyist failing. The hobbyist likes to play "show and tell." He hopes that the material he has brought will make him the center of attention and provide a titillating subject for conversation. It does not occur to him — and it wouldn't make any difference if it did — that he is distracting other members and defocusing their attention from the task of the National Alliance.

- Fascination with what's happening in the "movement," instead of in the National Alliance, is a hobbyist characteristic. The "movement," consisting as it does of scores of organizations [and now hundreds of forums, podcasts, and Web sites, etc.], provides a much larger arena for the hobbyist to play his games. It doesn't matter how inconsequential these other organizations are, since it's all a game of make-believe anyway. The fellow who is bubbling over with information about the latest pratfalls of some Imperial Wizard or the details of a feud between two newsletter publishers [or podcasters, etc.] is probably a hobbyist.

It is interesting to note that hobbyists were a much greater problem for the National Alliance when it was a tiny, ineffective organization. As we grew and began having some impact on the public consciousness, small though it was, the hobbyists became nervous. When it finally dawned on them that we are completely serious about achieving our goals, and that in the process we inevitably will become the primary target of the enemies of our race, the hobbyists stampeded for the exit: They wanted excitement, but not real danger. Nevertheless, hobbyists occasionally wander into the Alliance, and serious members should always be on the lookout for them.

Recruiting is the principal means by which the National Alliance builds its strength. The serious, responsible, racially conscious few who will stand up and fight for what they recognize as good and necessary are the ones we must bring into the Alliance in order to develop the capabilities necessary for attaining our revolutionary goals. Recruiting, more than any other function of the National Alliance infrastructure, needs the active participation of every member. Next month we will discuss more about the type of recruit the National Alliance needs as well as the types we want to avoid. Our members who are already "with the program" are our best recruiters. We know who we want standing and fighting beside us.

For more from Dr. Pierce about recognizing the hobbyist, search for "Perils of Hobbyism" at nationalvanguard.org. That will turn up his commentary with that title in the BULLETIN from 27 years ago. W. W. W.
